I would like tickets for the above show, and understand that the total cost for the evening (including transport) is £40.50 each. (As the cost of the coach is divided equally between everyone we are unable to make any reduction if you decide not to use the coach).

Because of continued problems with traffic into London on Motts advice the coach will leave from Aylesbury at 4.30 p.m. – hopefully leaving time for a coffee before the performance.
