People's Emergency Briefing

What's happening with climate and nature, and what does it mean for everyday life in the UK?

Join us for a screening of the People's Emergency Briefing – an eye-opening film bringing together nine leading UK scientists and experts with the latest evidence and why it matters to areas such as:

Extreme weather

Food security

Health

Cost of living

The film is based on the National Emergency Briefing in Westminster with appearances from Chris Packham, Deborah Meaden, and a range of voices from across the UK.

Since it launched in April 2026, over 4,500 community screenings of this film have been planned or completed across the UK. This event is hosted by Climate Action Wendover, a community-led environment group, in partnership with the team at Aylesbury Methodist Church.

Bring a friend, neighbour or family member. Everyone is welcome, although the recommended minimum age is 16.

Reviews of The People's Emergency Briefing

Sally Moss praised the film's clarity and tone, calling it "authoritative, digestible, psychologically realistic, savvy, and caring. Even funny in places, if you'll believe me."

Rt Rev John Arnold, Bishop of Salford, highlighted its moral urgency: "Our faith compels us to speak up... by joining this initiative we can play our part in calling for the government to take the action that is urgently needed."

Professor Paul Behrens described the film as "incredible" and the wider project as "the most exciting, community-led, climate and nature organising effort I've ever been a part of."

Peter Harker, usually sceptical of climate messaging, wrote: "This film is different. Really different... Stark facts, yes. But also a genuine sense of agency and even optimism."

Ali Fisher described the emotional impact: "It felt uplifting, empowering, engaging, revitalising, informative... It left me wanting to double down on my own efforts and reminded me to do it together, not alone."

Sylvia Davies described screenings as: "An immersive participatory experience... everyone seemed keen to embrace the moment, to connect, and to inspire one another."

Paul Riley wrote: "It's not abstract. It's not party political. And most importantly, it's not bleak... I am so filled with hope after seeing how many events have been lined up."

But what do YOU think? Come along on Saturday November 14th 7-9pm and decide for yourself. We'd love to see you there. It's important for you. If you or your friends and family have children and grandchildren, it's even more important for them!

WILD GARDEN UPDATE

The Christian charity A Rocha, who run the eco-church award scheme have identified 25 species, groups and habitats that are threatened.

The threatened 25 (T25), include native wildflowers. So, we will be playing our part in supporting them by planting only UK native wildflowers in our wildflower garden.

Karen Crussell and her wild garden team are planning to complete the planting by the end of October. We are very grateful for all the help received so far, including the transportation and spadework involved with the large bags of soil Derek Adams was able to get generously donated by Blue Diamond garden centre.
